

Harvard University

Harvard University Extension School

William R. Moomaw
James Hoyte
Timothy C. Weiskel
Global Climate Change
Introduction to Environmental Justice

51 Brattle Street
Cambridge, MA 02138
Tim@EcoEthics.Net
Phone: 617-661-5651
Cell: 203-641-3284

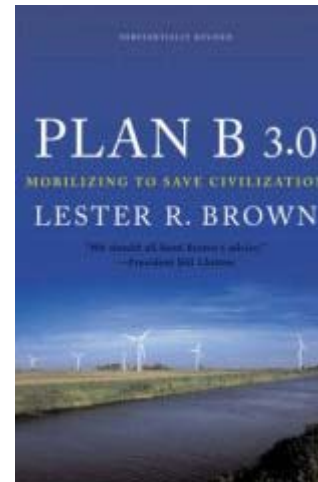

12 February 2008

Hello ENVR-E145ers,

This is a short note for you to print out and remind yourselves to attend (if you are in the Cambridge area) the forthcoming session of the Cambridge Forum on Friday, 22 February 2008.

Lester will be talking to the Cambridge Forum about his new book, Plan B. 3.0: Mobilizing to Save Civilization. For many decades, ever since he founded the Worldwatch Institute, Lester Brown has been a leading observer of global environmental change and a clear-thinking analyst of what the human community needs to do to provide for a sustainable future.

Because of the significance of the topics Lester Brown has researched over the years and their particular relevance to questions of global equity and environmental justice, we very much hope you will be able to attend this public lecture. If you get a chance to read portions of the book beforehand this would be an excellent occasion upon which to pose your best questions to Lester Brown in person.

Sincerely yours,

William R. Moomaw
James Hoyte
and
Timothy C. Weiskel